REGIS COLLEGE

ANOTHER PIECE OF OUR PUZZLE

Regis Puzzle...

Our lives are a puzzle, a mystery, and we try to find out where we fit in the grand scheme of things. We do not know what pieces will fit when we begin this great and often daunting puzzle and, as undergraduates, we have only completed part of our picture.

Our puzzle started when we arrived at Regis. We asked ourselves, "What are we doing here? How will we ever get through college?" We met our friends, our professors, administrators, and staff. They became our puzzle pieces and have helped us figure out the Regis puzzle.

As our Regis puzzle is completed, we can look back on this portion of the whole picture. What will we do now? Where do we go from here?

As we prepare to graduate, our puzzle is just coming together – we have put some of the pieces together, perhaps only for a time, perhaps permanently. The permanent pieces have given our picture a definite shape. Those pieces that fit temporarily will change our picture. Our puzzle is ever-changing, ever in motion.

One puzzle has unfolded before us. Another is about to begin and we will continue to make our way through "the unfolding puzzle of life."

"We are one big family of people, trying to make our way through the unfolding puzzle of life."
~Sara Paddison

Dr. England

Dear Class of 2006,

Puzzles and Mysteries

Human beings love puzzles. From time immemorial, riddles, rhymes, runes, and optical illusions have fascinated and entertained us. How many families and friends find a new bond around the huge picture puzzle spread out on the coffee table? What delight anagrams, puns, mazes, and crosswords bring – as long as we can figure them out! Along with the seemingly infinite series of combinations that binary logic supports in computer systems, our world today places great faith in the problem-solving model of thought. "Either-or" and "Yes or No" sustain engineering marvels as well as political solutions to global warming or war or free trade.

Your education at Regis College has sharpened your ability to enter into the magic of ready problem solving. Even working through the layout of a yearbook is a kind of puzzle in which the yearbook committee wants to fit all the pieces. Whether or not to become a co-educational institution is a riddle the College itself wants to answer. And, from a broader perspective, that inquiry is but a piece of an even larger puzzle.

Like a chessboard in motion, our whole region is involved in the changing demographics of generations, races, cultures, parishes, schools, neighborhoods and corporations. The familiar pieces of Boston are shifting into different patterns. How shall you fit into that changing scene? How shall the College participate in creating new configurations and helping to solve the riddles that face the larger community? Like efforts to solve some of the classical problems in mathematics, your responses – and ours – may not always be instantaneous. Absorbing and sifting multicultural values, discerning the difference between personal vocation and career option, identifying the continuum for an increasing population of elders are tasks that require time and patient reflection, not quick fixes.

The idea that grips you now – the future is a puzzle – can be the prelude to the recognition that you yourselves are still discovering your possibilities. So my wish for the Regis College Class of 2006 is neither magical nor illusory but confident. As you enter a world of riddles, I expect that you will discover that you have the pieces you need to complete your particular puzzle. And my wish anticipates you. I look forward to hearing from you and about you the kind of insight in which wisdom has taken root. For you already know the biggest clue of all: Life is more a mystery to be understood than a problem to be solved.

Voices of Regis

Women of 2006,

So many times your hear the phrase, "Your life is like a book and it is up to you to decide what goes into it." Chapter one of your story started long ago as a child. Now the last chapter at Regis College is quickly coming to an end. It's hard to believe that just four short years ago we were wide-eyed first-years eager to experience everything college had to offer. We were anxious to learn, make new friends, hang out, go to parties and clubs, and most important, to grow. Each year we've added some new and unforgettable chapter to our story. Each page is filled with some magnificent journey that we've taken. Whether it was the late night trip to Dunkin Donuts or the semester spent abroad to see the world, our story at Regis has been one that has taken us places that we could only dare to imagine. It has turned us into the beautiful, creative and intelligent women that we are today. Our book is not yet complete. Although college is supposed to be the best four years of our lives, they aren't. It has been a great four years filled with fun, excitement, and memories but the best of our lives is yet to come. I leave you with these words to inspire the next chapter of your story.

Drench yourself in words unspoken
Live your life with arms wide open
Today is where your book begins
The rest is still unwritten....

I would like to thank you for allowing me to serve as your class president this year and wish the strong, dynamic, diverse, and intelligent women of the Class of 2006 all the success and happiness the next chapter in your story will bring you!

With love and honor,

Catherine Onasanya, Class President 2006

Class of 2006,

It's so easy to think back to our first day here at Regis College. We were all so excited and nervous to start our lives as independent women. We knew we were here to learn and experience anything ahead of us but most important, to figure out who we are.

Four years have passed and all of us have accomplished many things. We have made differences in the Regis College Community and within ourselves. As one of the student voices of the college, I can say we have all come a long way. I am proud to say we are strong, intelligent and successful Regis College women. We thank everyone who has been a part of our lives here and who helped make us who we are today. We came here as girls and leave here women. I am confident to say we are ready for anything our future and the world holds.

I congratulate each and every one of the phenomenal women of the Class of 2006! Good Luck and let's hope the world is ready for us.

Flor Leahl, SGA President

Editors' Letter

During the long winter nights when all the campus was sleeping, two editors worked the night away assembling the pieces of the Regis College puzzle so the graduating seniors could keep their Regis memories for life.

The whole yearbook process has been like a puzzle—the individuals are the pieces of the puzzle that have come together to assemble the yearbook.

The yearbook got off to a rough start, but we managed to overcome the obstacles. It was a learning process for the both of us and we learned quickly that putting together a yearbook is a full-time job. We were constantly jumping through hurdles to get tasks accomplished. It took lots of determination, patience, motivation, and s'mores!

We had no idea what we were getting ourselves into when we joined, but the yearbook tested us in everyway imaginable. It tested our friendship, stress tolerance, drive, determination, management skills, problem solving skills, and perseverance. We both have come out of this experience as stronger women...prepared to handle future challenges.

However, we'll never forget the memories with which the yearbook has left us. We had occasional visitors at the yearbook office that made sure we weren't going hungry and the visitors who just stopped by to talk and give us a much needed break. We got to meet more people and became more involved on campus. Of course, we can't forget the yearbook slumber parties.

Even though many of you don't know the two of us, you will carry us for a lifetime. We tried to capture memories of Regis for all of you. We hope everyone enjoys the yearbook. A lot of time and care went into assembling this Regis College puzzle. Enjoy our final piece of the Regis College Puzzle...

We would like to give a special thanks to Jackie Gentile, Heidi Gomez, Liz Haire, Stephanie Laroque, Darlene Rogers, and the yearbook staff who were dedicated to helping out with the yearbook. Thanks to Dr. Sara Weintraub for supporting us along the way. Thanks to John Carrier for being so understanding. Thanks to Paul Lahey for listening to us and being our second support system and thanks to the Publications Office for being so welcoming. Thanks to Campo for not kicking us out of the yearbook office. And a special thanks to Eugene Protchenko for never letting us go hungry. And finally a special thanks to all of those who cooperated with us.

Good Luck to the Class of 2006,

Christine Claudino

Dr. Ed Mulholland has been a full-time teacher, Academic Dean, Director of Graduate and Continuing Education, Associate Director of the Student Success Center, and advisor to first-year, sophomore, and transfer students, just to name a few of the many hats he has worn. He is a true Renaissance man, fusing economics with any and all other fields of study while being a living example of the C.S.J. charism. He is an "everyman," the hallmark of a good teacher. He has the heart and soul of a teacher, a comedian, and one who puts ethics into practice, not theory. You can see it in his smile and in the smiles of those who know him, whether a long-time friend or a new acquaintance.

Mr. Mayor of Regis, we hope to follow in your footsteps and give back to Regis our time, our talent, and our hearts as you have so generously done. With that in mind, Dr. Mulholland, we dedicate our yearbook to you.

"The whole art of teaching is only the art of awakening the natural curiosity of young minds for the purpose of satisfying it afterwards." ~Anatole France

History of Regis

On May 27, 1927, Regis College was founded by the Sisters of St. Joseph. Mother Mary Domitilla founded the college with the intention of following in the footsteps of Sister Mary Regis, the first Superior who later became the Reverend Mother and Founder of the Boston Congregation. The campus is located in Weston, Massachusetts on 132 acres of picturesque land.

More than 75 years later, Regis still embodies the qualities the founding sisters hoped to instill in their students. This year around the campus, banners and signs, designed by Sister Ann Marie Grady, CSJ have been put up stating the goals and values that have been taught throughout the years at Regis. These are: welcoming all, making a difference, loving God and others, and striving for excellence with gentleness. Students at Regis truly embody these phrases and will take what they have learned here with them when they graduate.

"For me, a landscape does not exist in its own right since its appearance changes at every moment; but the surrounding atmosphere brings it to life - the light and the air which vary continually. For me, it is only the surrounding atmosphere which gives subjects their true value."

~Claude Monet

Special Thanks To...

To the Faculty and Staff of Regis College,

We, the graduating class of 2006, would like to offer our thanks to you, from the bottom of our hearts, which you have mended, strengthened, and uplifted. You have not only sharpened our minds, but you have also shaped our hearts with your invaluable wisdom and care that you have offered us within and outside of the classroom.

Each one of you is an absolute wealth of knowledge and we thank you for wanting to share that with us. We are honored to say that we are your students, that you have paved the way for us. We hope to make you proud, as proud as we are to have studied under you and to have been guided by you.

This is not the end of the road for us in our student-teacher relationships. We are not leaving you or Regis. In spirit, you will always be with us.

We all came to Regis from different backgrounds and we will leave here different people. Wherever we go, whatever we do next, we will think of you because you have been instrumental in the ultimate shaping of our lives. You have not only given us a college education – you have given us the master keys to a thousand doors. Thanks to you, we can turn the key and are prepared for what lies on the other side. Thanks to you, your wisdom, your caring, the joy that you have given us will carry us through anything and everything we encounter.

Thank you,

From the Class of 2006

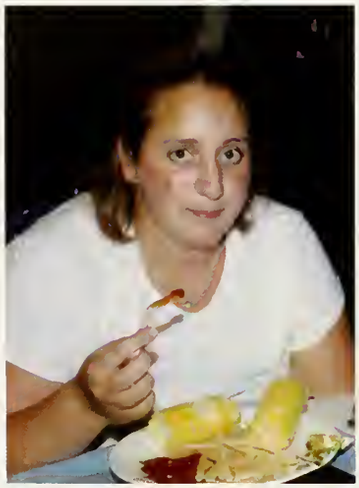
Hello down there Meg.



Yes Emily, I see your point.

Past Traditions...

Christmas Banquet

During our sophomore year, we served dinner at the Christmas Banquet. Sporting our pressed white shirts and slick black pants, we were professionals ready to serve our Regis community. We stayed busy by preparing tables and food for the Christmas Banquet dinner, sponsored by SGA.

We also served as entertainment for our guests by singing them Christmas carols. At the end, we helped clean up while our guests went to the Christmas tree lighting ceremony.

"Sow good services; sweet remembrances will grow them." ~Madame de Stael

Daisy Chain

During our sophomore year, we also participated in the Daisy Chain, a Regis College tradition. We guided the Class of 2004 to their commencement ceremony. We marched alongside the graduates as we held a chain of daisies that represent life after Regis College. When we arrived at the gates, we bid farewell to the seniors and waited for our turn to leave our own legacy at Regis.

Junior Ring

In September 2004, we gathered as members of the junior class in the College Hall Foyer to receive our class rings and to have them, or other personal items that held significance, blessed. The Junior Ring Ceremony marks the halfway point in a Regis student's time here at the college. The traditional Regis ring symbolizes two of the major visual images in which the college takes pride: the Tower and the Regis Crest. At this ceremony, Taryn Face, on piano and Jacquelyn Gentile, on guitar, performed, "Dare You to Move," by the popular musical group Switchfoot. With memories and photos of the Junior Ring Ceremony, slowly these lyrics are recalled from the song:

"Between who you are and who you could be,
Between how it is and how it should be,
I dare you to move I dare you to move,
I dare you to lift yourself up off the floor."

Cap and Gown

"And now whatever way our stories end. I know you have written mine by being my friend..." ~Stephen Schwartz

"I know I'm who I am today, because I knew you" ~Stephen Schwartz

This year's Cap and Gown ceremony was held on October 15, 2005. It is one of the oldest traditions at Regis College and marks the first time students wear their caps and gowns and the moment the college acknowledges the class as entering its final year as undergraduates. Nicole Collette and Rachel Valente received the Charism of the Sisters of St. Joseph Spirit Awards. In addition, Lisa Crowley, Danielle Doherty, Heidi Gomez, and Melissa Gonzalez were presented this year's Leadership and Service Awards. Professors Collamati, Liazos, Morrison, Murray, Rijnbout, and Weintraub were selected to "gown" the seniors.

Hoop Rolling

After long hours of stretching fabric,gluing on pictures, and other memorabilia, and, of course, waiting until the last minute to create them, the hoops were completed. Due to the weather, the Hoop Rolling Ceremony was moved to the athletic arena, saving our hoops from being destroyed! Many years ago, the winner of the race was said to be the first in her class to marry, however, the times have changed. As Director of Student Events and Campus Minister Maria DiLorenzo puts it today, "Maybe now the winner will be the first woman to be president." We will just have to wait and see...

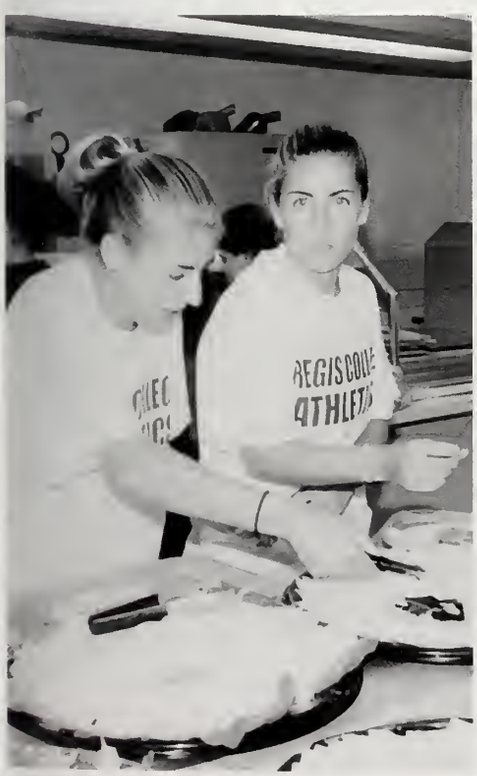
Class of 2007

The traditional Junior ring Ceremony for the Class of 2007 was held on October 15, 2005. Juniors wishing to partake in this annual event gathered in the Foyer bearing their most treasured pieces of jewelry. As we listened to the kind words spoken by President England, we realized that our journey through Regis College was nearing completion.

As we watched the seniors participate in the annual Hoop Rolling Contest and Cap and Gown Ceremony, we are now anxious and excited to embark on the last chapter of our own undergraduate education.



The Class of 2008 has already had some hallmark times at Regis. We have already been introduced to the Regis atmosphere during our orientation where we participated in the traditional balloon ceremony. As we let go of the balloon, we made wishes hoping they will come true. We continued the Regis traditions by serving dinner at the Christmas Banquet this year. In the remaining two years, we will carry on the traditions and leave our legacy just like the seniors have done this year.

Class of 2008

This year, the Class of 2009 met for the first time at our orientation. We were filled with all sorts of emotions from nervousness to excitement as we assembled the first puzzle pieces of our journey here at Regis. We had a chance to mingle with upper class women, new friends, and even our roommates for the fall! It was our first exposure to Regis life minus the workload.

Regis College Traditions...

Homecoming

October of 2005 brought with it many fun things to campus. Homecoming weekend, when all of the Regis College fall sports teams participate in home games, was celebrated with a kick-off pep rally and bonfire. Our very own Dance Company started the night off with an exciting and energetic performance. Contests and words of encouragement to our sports teams soon followed. Coaches introduced individual team members to the excited and congratulatory audience. The night was enjoyable for all, and was a great show of support for our teams!

Family Weekend

Family Weekend is an exciting and bittersweet time on the Regis College campus. Families of students are welcomed to join in activities such as barbeques, apple picking, and wine and cheese ceremonies. This year was no different. Due to heavy rains, the outdoor activities were cancelled, but there was still plenty to do. The Junior Ring Ceremony, which is an annual tradition, took place in the College Hall Foyer. The Seniors also participated in the annual Cap and Gown and Hoop Rolling Ceremonies. As the graduating class looked upon the end of their undergraduate careers, they also focused on the bright horizon of their futures. Family Weekend was a wonderful way to start off the new academic year!

Woman to Woman

The Women to Women brunch gave us a chance to acknowledge the phenomenal women in our lives: mothers, aunts, sisters, and grandmothers. We got to spend the day with the most important women of our lives who have helped us get where we are today.

We spent the time talking to family and friends. We ended the brunch with a slide show of our baby pictures and the special women in our lives. This is a traditional event that both students and families look forward to every year. Although this is the last year the Class of 2006 will participate as undergraduates in this tradition, hopefully they wil always remember this very special occasion and will return soon as the mothers, aunts, sisters of her undergraduate women. Phenomenal women...that's us.

Christmas Banquet

On December 9, we gathered in the main dining hall to hold the traditional Christmas Banquet. The sophomores served the seniors, juniors, freshmen, and professors. The snowfall did not put a damper on our Christmas spirits that evening. Christmas ornaments were added to the tree by each class. After a scrumptious dinner, we all headed to the College Hall foyer to sing Christmas Carols. The seniors led the way with their candles. After singing Christmas Carols, we headed outside to watch the lighting of the campus. However, the fun was not over yet for those who drove onto campus during this blizzard, they had to dig their snow-covered cars out.

Snowball 2005

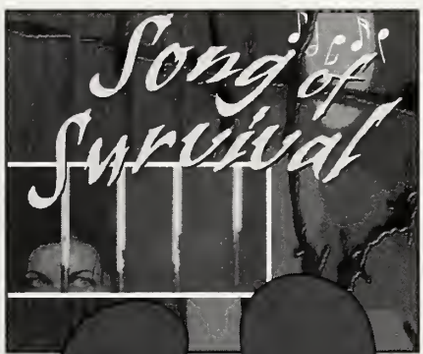
Most of us took the torturous walk from the dorms to the FAC in the bitter cold to attend the Snowball Semi. The Atrium was decorated beautifully. It is Regis at its finest. Although, we're accustomed to seeing classmates dressed in sweats, underneath those jackets all of us revealed our true beauty. Some students even sported sunglasses—What were they hiding underneath those glasses anyhow? Perhaps it was the shining lights that night, or the flashes from the paparazzi, or maybe it was just our glowing personalities.

We danced the night away. There were even some old time favorites played like Cotton Eyed Joe and the Electric Slide. By the end of the night, we were dancing barefoot. Our feet hurt so much that our dates had to carry us out of the FAC. The seniors savored every moment at their final Snowball Semi. It was a perfect night we will remember for a lifetime and we also got a keepsake bell to ring up memories. And thus ends the story of Cinderella and her prince charming.

Peru Trip 2005

During Spring Break 2005, a group of Regis College students and staff traveled to Villa El Salvador, Peru. We traveled to Peru to offer our services at this village. We painted, moved sand into the inside of a frame of a building, assisted a local clinic—Martin de Porres, and we spent time playing with children in a day care. We experienced a different culture and we also shared our culture with the Peruvians. The Peruvians were very friendly and welcoming; we left with friendships that will last a lifetime. The whole experience can be summed up in three words: spirituality, service, and culture.

Organizations...



The purpose of the Asian American Association is to enlighten the Regis College Community about the diversity of Asian cultures on campus. Two major events our club hosts annually are the Thanksgiving Dinner and the New Year Dinner. These dinners are a way for us to share the different types of food within the Asian cultures and to give thanks to the Regis College Community for all the help and support they've given us.

Over the past couple years, AAA has grown tremendously. We have developed strong values for the importance of doing charity work for our communities. Our association also welcomes those outside the Asian culture who are interested in learning about the Asian culture and creating long lasting friendships.

This year's Executive Board wants to thank every person who has made an enormous difference by lending her valuable time and effort in helping our club prosper. We all hope this club will continue to develop further when seniors leave. Best wishes for much success! Continue to keep up the wonderful work ladies!

Asian American Association

Amigas

The Amigas is a Latina organization which is known for their Latina Celebration. The Latina Celebration is the biggest event that Amigas hosts. It is held in November because November is National Latin Month. At this feast, there is music, dancing, poetry, and of course plenty of Latin food. Amigas celebrates the Latin culture and shares it with the Regis College community.

African, Hispanic, Asian, Native American

The AHANA, the African, Hispanic, Asian, Native American, student organization is a multicultural sisterhood created to celebrate the cultural differences present at Regis College, by coordinating a variety of events that celebrate, education, and support the members about their similarities and differences. AHANA has a large student membership that hosts several campus events such as, Black History Month Dinner, Martin Luther King Celebration, the AHANA Semi-Formal, and the Cultural Enlightenment show.

Business Association

Students who are management majors or minors who are interested in joining and becoming a crucial part of the business world are able to join our Association. Students who are not management majors or minors are able to join the Association if a serious interest in business is demonstrated. The organization will help inform you about and gain experience in the business world to pursue a career in business or other related fields. Both on and off campus events are planned to show students first-hand what exactly takes place in certain business environments. Through workshops, guest speakers, and outside events, students will be better prepared to enter the business world.

The year began with a day of planning near the beach, and from then on, the year flew by. From Dunkies Day, bowling, ice cream socials, and a youth Halloween party, to helping raise funs for Peru, trips to Cradles to Crayons, and other service opportunities, Campus Ministry proved this year to be a dynamic group. For the first time in the history of the group, we participated with other Campus Ministries in a multi-college collaborative for service followed by a collective party. It was a great year, and we hope to achieve even more in the future.

Campus Ministry

Cape Verde Student Association

The Cape Verde Student Association, CVSA, is a newer club at Regis. The Club hosts multiple events including, Maintenance Appreciation Day, the Valentine's Day Social, and the Cape Verde Celebration in April. The Cape Verde Celebration recognizes and celebrates the Cape Verdean culture. Members of this organization are not limited to women of Cape Verdean descent; they are open to everyone who is interested in learning about the culture.

Song of Survival

This season, the Theatre Company hit the stage with some great productions. During the first semester, the company put on the spooky Masque of the Red Death (And Other Pieces by Poe) in celebration of Halloween in the Black Box Theatre. On the main stage, the company collaborated with the Chamber Singers to present an inspiring story of life in a World War II prison camp called Song of Survival. During the spring semester, James McLure's Laundry and Bourbon, A Comedy in One Act hit the Black Box. The story features the comic banter between three married women doing laundry, drinking bourbon and coke, and realizing their marriages are not what they were cracked up to be. Still Life with Iris, a story about a little girl's magical journey back home and back to her beloved parents, hit not only the Casey Theatre, but also the road as it toured the Harwich Junior Theatre on Cape Cod for two performances in April.

The Regis College Dance Company is a student run organization. The members practice various forms of dance throughout the semester including lyrical, jazz, hip hop, modern, tap, and salsa in preparation for their annual recital. The Dance Company performs their annual recital every March.

Dance Ensemble

Ensemble

The Instrumental Music Ensemble, headed up by '01 alum and accordion accompanist Dolores Radlo, is a jazzy and contemporary group of students with a knack for providing the comic relief for any given Regis concert. The Ensemble, which has gone through numerous name changes throughout its existence, has played pieces such as "The Imperial March" from Star Wars, "The Pink Panther," and countless jazzed-up versions of Christmas songs in the past. The group also accompanies the Glee Club and combined choirs for Regis concerts and is featured in the annual Regis Rhythms fundraiser.

Glee Club

The Regis College Glee Club offers a musical fanfare of different genres ranging from jazz to folk to Broadway and everything in between. Director Sheila Grace Prichard has led the Club in song since 1974. In addition to hosting the American Choral Directors of America (ACDA) Collegiate Choral Festival for the 13th time this year, the Glee Club showcased its multi-talented women in the annual Christmas and spring concerts. They were joined, as always, by the Chamber Singers, a smaller group of Glee Clubbers who perform pieces with many parts and echo performances of the Renaissance, and the buoyant Alumnae Choir. The Glee Club takes the show on the road every two to three years and has already visited England, Scotland, Italy, Germany, France, and Ireland. The next stop for the 2007 season is Portugal.

The Regis College Gospel Choir has been raising its collective voice and lifting spirits for nearly ten years. Under the direction of Linda San-Martin, the Gospel Choir hosts two major extravaganzas in the College Chapel and invites gospel groups from the Greater Boston area for these great nights of praise. The Choir has grown from seven members in its infant year to over 30 members in the 2006 roster.

START—stands for Students Teaching Acceptance and Respect Together—provides educational awareness programs for the Regis College community on racism, creedism, heterosexism, and other "isms" that become concerns on the Regis campus. START hopes that through programs like the Day of Silence and Culture Walks that we can strengthen and unify our diverse college community. We attend off-campus events to strengthen our tolerance, respect, and acceptance of others. We celebrate diversity.

Students Teaching Acceptance and Respect Together

Step Club

The Regis College Step Association is a group of talented, inspiring and intelligent young women who express their culture and essence through rhythm and movement. The purpose of the Regis College Step Association is to convey excitement and school spirit to the Regis community through Step Shows and school based activities.

Tower Society

Tower Society is an organization consisting of students representing all classes, clubs and interests on campus to assist in the recruitment process. Members are selected through an interview process and participate in Admission events such as Open Houses and Overnights. They also give campus tours and contact prospective students.

WRGS is the school's student-run radio station. WRGS serves the students promotes on campus activities and serves as the student's voice. Both AI and Regis students host the radio shows. Stephanie Laroque recalls, "One night during my freshmen year some of my Regis and AI friends stayed up all night in the radio station. We had a blast playing music and just goofing off." 2005 Field Hockey

Despite the losing record of 0-15, the Regis College Field Hockey Team is looking forward to a brighter future. One of the greatest difficulties of the season was that there were so few players. Coach Heather Gilmour had to move several players around to fill in the missing pieces. The team was also overwhelmed by injuries, sick players, and bad weather, which cancelled several games. The highlight of the season was a scoreless game between the Pride and the University of New England. The game was taken into overtime, where UNE ended up making a goal. Coach Gilmour and the team believe they will have a successful future. The team will be losing three accomplished seniors, captains Erin Campbell and Kimberly Luciani, and foward Nicole Collette. Despite this loss, eleven players will be returning, many of whom have had experience in several different positions. As long as injuries, illnesses, and bad weather conditions stay out of their way, the Pride Field Hockey Team will be looking forward to a winning season come the fall.

Below: Can't get anything past Erin!

The Regis College Tennis Team worked their way through this season with 4 wins and 9 losses. Robert Erickson was a first time coach for Regis College and was previously an assistant coach for Tufts University Girl's Tennis Team. The tennis team went to the CCC playoffs but lost to Endicott College in the first round. Jevon Biffinger, captain of this year's team, was named to the first team singles and doubles teams for the CCC. Lorena Asllanaj, Junior, was named to the second team singles and first team doubles teams. Lorena and Jevon finished the year with only one doubles loss in the conference. The tennis team went through a rebuilding year and made a lot of progress from the beginning of the season to the end. Other members of the team were Kimberly Barrett, Samantha Haskell, Jenna Ciaramella and Stephanie Boutsang. The team has a great spirit and charisma and will make next year an even better season than this one.

The 2005 soccer team put the pieces of the puzzle together culminating a fantastic finish for the Pride. It was only four short years ago that the soccer team struggled to field a team let alone win a game. As the years progressed, maintaining only four players from the original 2002 team, the team continued to improve season after season. This season, the Pride assembled a team that came back from past losses against conference foes who had beaten them in the past 14-0 to win heavily contested match ups 3-0. Within the season's first week, the soccer team had a start of 3-1 overall, the best start since its inception in 1984. Having charted five conference wins, the team overcame a feat that had eluded them for four years, earning much deserved respect throughout the conference. Led by Head Coach Mark A. Clemente, the team finished with an 8-9-2 record, a school best. Returning more than half its players, the record was the result of the hard work and dedication of both newcomers and returnees. The team had two players registering All Conference Honorable Mentions and Coach of the Year. Much is expected of the Pride in coming years, and with perseverance and determination, the team will continue to improve for the future.

2005 Volleyball

The Regis College Volleyball 2005 season was led by third year head coach Kelly Murphy. The team's three senior captains, Melissa Gonzalez, Keri Bertorelli, and Veronica Coles provided strong leadership to the team. Promising newcomers to the volleyball squad included Meghan Lemein, Tiffany Blessing, Victoria Durham, Jenny Wong, and Amanda Ellis. In their season opening tournament at Regis, the Pride finished in second place. The Pride also traveled to Atlanta, Georgia this past September competitively playing against Emory College and LeTourneau College. Although very competitive with teams throughout the whole season, this dynamic set of eight players worked hard to earn its position in the conference standings. The Pride fell one game short of making the play-offs. However, with the set nucleus of five returning players, the Regis Volleyball team looks towards great play for the upcoming season.

2005 Basketball

Finishing 6th in the Commonwealth Coast Conference South Division last year, just missing tournament seedings, and four coaches in 4 years, the Regis College Basketball seniors have been through it all. First year Head Coach Julie Plant's 5 graduating seniors made up the core of this year's team. Since they were freshmen, the team has made significant improvements. With the help of freshmen, Kim Mariotti, sophomore Katelyn Shea, and junior, Jessica Harding, these elite eight have proven themselves worthy in compeition this season. Regis will say farewell and good luck to their five seniors: Nicole Messuri, Melissa Gonzalez, Colleen Hill, Megan Powell, and Erin Campbell. They will be greatly missed on and off the court.

Track

In taking new leaps and setting high records, the Regis College Track and Field team is looking to have a great up coming season. This year's squad includes record setters, Kristen Lanctot (long jump, 400m), and Ezechaelle Myrthil (shot put). Looking to pick up where they left off in their last meet of last year's season, with a thrower placing third and individual improvements, this season is in high spirits. Regis Track and Field will graduate Alison Brown. She will be greatly missed for all her hardwork throughout the years.

Swimming and Diving

In her second season as head coach, Mindy Williams has high hopes for this season. The swim team will only be losing one senior. The Regis College Swimming and Diving team is eager to get back in the swim of things for the next season. Starting the season off in Miami, Regis swimmers are looking to improve on their last year's times. Under the leadership of captains senior Colleen Colarussio and junior Elise Doucette, who both qualified for the New England Championships, the team has shown tremendous spirit and pride. Four other Regis swimmers have qualified for New Englands, in relays and are looking to improve their times for individual competition. Regis congratulates Sarah Boniface, Kate Daley, Liliana Jimenez, and Caitlyn Jones for their efforts. Joining Colarussio and Doucette in indiviudal competition is junior Leah Boniface. Good Luck to the New England qualifers and to the graduating seniors, Colleen Colarussio and Emily Green.

Lacrosse

After its first season as a varsity sport, the Regis College Lacrosse team is hopeful for their second season. They hope to improve on last year's record of 0-8. As a building program at Regis, the team is looking for energy, intensity, and dedication to grab their first win. Coach Shannon Curran is in her second season at Regis College. The Lacrosse team will lose two senior captains, Cathy Onasanya and Colleen Colarussio.

Softball

The Regis College Softball team has high hopes of a post season and a conference championship. Led by captains, Melissa Gonzalez, Amanda Reyes, Veronica Coles, and Colleen Hill, Coach Heather Gilmour is looking for her finest softball season yet. This year's spring training trip will kick off in Fort Myers, Florida looking to improve on their previous spring training record of 4-5. This year's team will graduate 7 seniors. The team will look to them for their intensity, leadership, and pure love for the game. Regis would like to say thank you and congratulations to the 7 seniors who will leave behind lasting memories in this growing program.

09/17/2005

We, the class of 2006, leave…

…the Class of 2007 the knowledge to appreciate their final days here at Regis; they went by fast for us, and surely they will go by just as fast for you.
….endless memories of the Regis that we knew as we spread our wings and fly into what the future holds for us all.
…a diploma, a good-paying job, and some piece of mind.
…flashlights for everyone at Regis College for all those blackouts and a better system to notify commuter students when class is canceled.
…Tom Pistorino financial ratios and all the snow days he should have given us off.

The graduating management majors leave Dr. Phil Jutras a spell checker, a bigger office, penmanship, a personal assistant so he can be more organized, and a rainforest for all the trees he killed.

We, the Fall 05 Senior Seminar Class leaves to Sister Ann Grady all our unfinished Global Overviews and Methodologies that we still don't know how to do, and one rose.

We the members of the Pit leave...
...behind our beloved floor to the future male students of Regis…treat it like a lady.
...Residence Life ALL our unpaid fines, quiet hour violations and one party proposal that we are still waiting for.
...Tasha an envelope of Milk Duds and a stick of gum.

I, Ryan Carney leave Cathy O and Becky the Spring 05 semester we never had.

I, Melissa Gonzalez leave to my teammates all the things I haven't done at Regis.

We, Lisa Crowley, Melissa Gonzalez, and Colleen Hill, leave…
…Maria Hall our Margaritas sombreros and our gansta picture
…the OLs our infamous skit, "The Cat", and an unforgettable summer.
…Lynn a dinner on us.

We Caitlin Clark and Amanda Iverson leave Dr. Mostashari a BIG raise and success with your new book.

We, Cathy, Katie, Megan and Nicole leave….
…to Jill and Shea-Shea the Dentyne Gum Box directions to Coach's house.
…to the Soccer team tons of 120s, lappers, Chuck, or Marry, the Maroon Marauders, and funny memories of "Since You've Been Gone".

I, Ryan Carney leave Cathy O a blank tape to record all my TV shows on.

We, Erin Campbell and Kimberly Luciani leave the Field Hockey team all the things we never had; ONE win and a senior day.

I Melissa Gonzalez leave Leeps ALL my side door keys.

We, Cathy and Katie leave Devin and the training room a new Stim Machine.

I, Danielle Doherty, leave…
…to Beth Kaleta...I give you Blueberry...ehhh you know!!
…to Amanda Mauro...I give you hugs kisses and ultra lights.
…to Ashley Kiley.... I give you a jeep from Michael!!!
…to Amanda LaRose.... I give you all of pookie's love.

I, Colleen Colarusso, leave...
…an abundant supply of lotion to all of my "swimmahs" to prevent that itchy chlorine burn.
…Elsbeth Clifford and Beth Kaleta as much Salsa con queso as they can eat to survive all those stressful nights ahead.
…all 4th floor AH residents from 2004-2005, enough strength to succeed in whatever they wish to accomplish and enough hope to keep a smile on their faces.
…Blair Benander enough wake-up calls that she is never late again.
…To all of my professors, faculty, and friends that have believed in me and my dreams, I leave my endless gratitude for your support these past four years. THANK YOU! I would not be the person I am today with out you all!

We, Nora Gross and Colleen Colarusso, leave Dr. Liazos a batch of chocolate chip cookies and a glass of milk.

I, Heidi Gomez, leave…
…the Glee Club meetings to Caitlyn Fraser
…the days of office work to Miriam Lebon
…my great procrastination work with the Class of 2007

I Amanda Reyes leave the nights I can't remember and the days I wish I could to the Class of 2007

I, Stephanie "Lenny" Larocque leave…
…WRGS a new V.P. and my key to the station, more money, better events, hassle free shows at 3am;

...The Instrumental Ensemble the Trans-Siberian Orchestra piece PLAYED AT THE CONCERT with the actual Trans-Siberian Orchestra, lots of love for Dolores, more members, a Pink Panther;
...The Family/420 Crew baking cakes, shelter for refugees, things that are GREEN, beer pong, kings, virtual wrestling matches, moving things that shouldn't be moved, cheese, cloves, The Travel Channel, senior year;
...Nikki: a roommate with some understanding, shot-glass checkers, leaving the lamp on so you don't trip on my stuff ALL OVER the floor, London, The Red Sox, a step-stool.

I, Lexi Tuttle, leave...
...Thamarr my car keys, some chocolate goodies, and an address in the 'bury.
... Amanda M. some papichulos and pork and cheese moves.
...Ashley my lighter and some reception.

I, Nora Gross, leave...
...Campus Police my appreciation for always transferring my calls on campus for when I was too lazy to look the extension up in my planner.
...Dinaisha Bullock a million and one smiles and a permanent spot on my futon to sit and talk for hours.
...Student Government Association the strength to continue on its road to make changes and be the voice for the students.
...The faculty my utmost respect and thanks for teaching me so much and pushing me to do my best.
...Professor Belcher and the Graphics Lab many late nights spent in front of a computer working on my website.
...Psychology seminars to all those brave enough to register for them.
...Beth Kaleta new Adidas sandals for when hers wear out.
...100 new bags of candy for the Office of Career Development to make up for all the candy I ate while working there.
...All my old residents the best of memories in the Angel Wing 2004-2005.
...Elsbeth Clifford all my iTunes so she doesn't have to keep stealing them from me one by one.
...All the T-riders my quarter filled pockets just so they can get one ride from Riverside inbound.

I Nicole Mancini leave....
...Candance Maurer my internship at DoubleTree and all the parties I missed at UMass.
...Eugene Protchenko all the endless nights I spent on homework and at the yearbook office instead of spending them with you.
...Christine Claudino a futon for the yearbook office for all those endless nights we spent on the yearbook floor....ssshhhh don't tell anyone!!! And I leave you toothpaste for all those times I borrowed yours...thanks for not letting me have stinky breath.

I Christine Claudino leave...
...Eugene Protchenko a diamond ring to propose to Nicole Mancini.
...Nicole Mancini endless scrap booking supplies and marshmallows, Hershey's chocolate, and graham crackers so we can make smores.
...Vadim my aim obsession that distracted me from my homework.

I Nicole Mancini and Christine Claudino leave....
...Dr. Weintraub another PC, a digital a camera, scanner for the yearbook office, and a reliable yearbook staff.
...the Publications Office a new heater we borrowed and paper that we wasted on those late nights in the Pubs office.
... Ernesto Teixeira the movie, Jar Head, that we missed out on.
...leave the torturous yearbook office to the Class of 2007....Good Luck.

I always knew that looking back on my tears would make me laugh, but...

Congratulations
Class of 2006,
we made it!!!
